Violence in the Workplace Awareness Seminar

Tuesday, February 26, 2002 – 7:30 to 9:00 a.m.

(Postponed from January 31, 2002)

Workplace violence is an increasing concern for employees and organizations. In this general awareness seminar, learn how to identify sources and types of workplace violence, assess existing and potential violence in the workplace, and explore strategies to ensure a safe and healthy workplace for all employees. Sector-specific seminars in March, 2002 will build on the general awareness seminar, and focus on risk assessment, and policies, procedures and processes to develop relevant violence in the workplace prevention programs for individual organizations. It is recommended that participants attend the general awareness seminar before attending the sector-specific seminars.

Objectives:

- To increase awareness of the need for workplace violence prevention programs.
- To identify exposures to risk and liability in the absence of workplace violence prevention programs.

Presenter: Brian Evans, Evans Consulting Group

Brian is a certified protection professional (American Society for Industrial Security), and owner/managing director of Evans Consulting Group. He has spent 37 years in the police and security field in Winnipeg, Edmonton and Toronto.

Who should attend? This seminar will be of interest to business owners, chief executive officers, senior managers, environment, health and safety managers, supervisors, health and safety committee members, and human resources managers.
